ROOSEVELT WILL CONTINUE FIGHT

It Will go on to Triumphant Conclusion.

Ex-President Breaks Long Silence and Says That His Fight For Progressive Popular Government Has Just Begun—Cause of Democratic Victory Was Dissatisfaction in Ranks of Republican Party.

New York, Nov. 16.—Theodore Roosevelt declares in his first statement since election day that he believes the fight for progressive popular government has just begun. One week before election, while speaking in Des Moines, he said he was enlisted for a three years' war, and that if defeated this year he would "keep on fighting."

His first formal statement, as printed in the Outlook, to which publication he is a contributing editor, says: "On every hand, personally and by correspondents, I have been asked to make a statement regarding the election. So far as I am concerned, I have nothing whatever to add to or take away from the declaration of the principles which I have made in the Ossawatimie speech and elsewhere East and West during the past three months. The fight for progressive popular government has merely begun and will certainly go on to a triumphant conclusion in spite of initial checks and irrespective of the personal success or failure of individual leaders."

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT." How and Why It Happened. Immediately following this signed statement is an unsigned editorial dealing with the causes and result of the vote cast against the Republican ticket. Nov. 8. Col. Roosevelt did not write this editorial, but, as one of the editors of the magazine, it is regarded as probable he knew of the editorial and subscribed to the view it expressed. Thus the editorial is generally regarded as being a more extended exposition of Mr. Roosevelt's views than is made in the signed statement. The editorial reads in part:

"The Democratic wave of success which began with the election of a Democratic governor in Maine had an even more striking illustration in the greatly reduced Republican majorities in such States as Rhode Island, Pennsylvania and Iowa than in the Democratic victories in New York, Ohio and New Jersey. In each State the Democratic gains are to be attributed, first, of course, to one large and general movement; but in each case also there were special contributing causes. Broadly defined, the general cause was simply dissatisfaction with the Republican party."

"But, specifically, the high tariff is believed to be one of the chief causes of the high cost of living; the people believed that a substantial downward revision was promised by the Republican party; the Payne-Aldrich bill was not in fact, accepted as such a measure; the attempts of the administration to hold the bill up to admiration not only did not convince but did irritate its critics."

"The unhappy Ballinger-Pinchot controversy, the diplomatic scandal over the appointment of a Chinese minister, the political revolt against Cannonism—these and other matters left in the popular mind a feeling that the Republican party was dealing weakly with grave public interests, and in a measure overshadowed the praise deserved for the actual constructive measures passed."

"Moreover, in some ways the Democrats benefited by the stirring of popular feeling for progressive legislation; in many cases progressive Democrats pushed aside conservatives of both parties; Woodrow Wilson in New Jersey is as truly a progressive as is Robert Taft in New Hampshire."

"It must be remembered that the moral revolt against boss rule and legislative corruption in New York, for instance, was a totally different thing from the insurgent and anti-tariff feeling in the West. Nationally the chief result is that we shall have a Democratic House of Representatives with a majority of nearly or quite 60, as against a Republican majority of 43 in the present Congress; while the Republican majority in the Senate is reduced from 25 to 12. Thus for the first time in many years we shall have a Republican President and Senate ranged against a Democratic lower house, and either party may block legislation if it wishes. That the Democrats will next year introduce a general tariff bill is likely, but if they are wise they will recognize the fact that the only reasonable way of dealing with the subject is that recommended by the President and Mr. Roosevelt—that is, schedule by schedule."

"The result in New York State is practically to put Tammany in control at Albany. Mr. Dix, at the best a man of little public service, is chosen by a plurality of nearly 70,000 in preference to Mr. Stimson, whose record as a faithful and universally successful prosecutor of public enemies is unique."

"The causes of this temporary defeat of progressive Republicanism in New York were in the main the exposure of corrupt practices among Republicans in the Legislature, the inclement weather which made the vote light in the rural districts, the bitter enmity of most of the New York City papers, and finally the honest ill-judged belief of many conservative voters who cannot distinguish between restricting illegal acts of dishonest corporations and interfering with business at large."

PICKS HARMON AND WILSON

Senator Money Also Says Democrats Must Revise Tariff Quick.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 16.—Judson Harmon, of Ohio, and Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey, in the order named, should be the Democratic ticket in the Presidential contest of 1912, in the opinion of Senator Money, of Mississippi, who has been the titular leader of the Democratic minority of the Senate since Senator Culberson, of Texas, was obliged by ill-health to give up that post in the last session.

Senator Money was among the few statesmen who has reached Washington in anticipation of the coming session. He has been in New York, at the meetings of the Monetary Commission. He gave it as his judgment that Gov. Harmon would be the most available man for the head of the Democratic national ticket two years hence, because of his well-known conservative views of constitutional limitations and because of the overwhelming majority he had been given at last week's election by the people of the President's own State.

As to tariff revision, Senator Money insisted that the Democrats must undertake it at the first session of the next Congress, and push it through without waiting for action by the Tariff Board. The Democrats had been given a mandate by the people of the country to relieve them of some of the burdens imposed by the schedules of the Payne-Aldrich bill, and the party must obey that mandate at the earliest possible moment. There should be no waiting on the Tariff Board. If later it was thought wise to enlarge the powers of the Tariff Board so that it could do effective work, well and good.

ECLIPSE OF MOON.

Fair Luna Obscured Behind a Veil of Shadow.

Last evening fair Luna was completely obscured behind a veil of shadow. On most previous occasions she has chosen a time for hiding when the inhabitants of the earth were for the most part asleep, but this time she vanished right before one's gaze and at an hour when all could behold the phenomenon without dependence upon an alarm clock or the loss of so much as a moment of sweet sleep.

This was the second eclipse of the year, and on account of the perfectly clear weather and the absence of humidity, the shadow, which took the hue of a tawny cloud, was so nearly transparent that one could mark the outline of those peculiar figures in the moon variously conjectured to be land, ice-floes, etc., but which those who do not claim to know call the "man in the moon." The shadow was entered at 5:45 and at 6:55 the moon withdrew her light from the earth for a space of about one hour.

The spectacle was one of much interest and everywhere one could see the inhabitants out on street corners and in front of their homes gazing eastward into the heavens.

MISS RIDGE AND MR. STOCKARD WED

West Market Street Methodist Church Scene of Beautiful Wedding Yesterday At 12:30 O'clock—Ceremony Performed by Rev. E. K. McLarty, Pastor of Bride—Off on Wedding Trip.

Yesterday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock in West Market Street Methodist church one of the prettiest weddings of the season occurred when Miss Etha Ridge became the bride of Mr. Casper Wistar Stockard, the ceremony being performed by Rev. E. K. McLarty in the presence of a large assemblage of friends of the couple.

The church had been artistically decorated for the occasion. A profusion of palms and ferns, tastefully arranged around the altar, made a beautiful background for the wedding scene.

A delightful musical program was rendered by Mr. Chas. F. Alderman prior to the ceremony after which Mrs. Fred J. Sparger sang that beautiful love song, "Because."

The strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin announced the entrance of the bridal party. First came the attendants, Messrs. S. Clay Williams, Arthur Coffin, Wade Stockard, Lonnie K. Thompson, T. A. Walker and Eugene W. McNairy. They entered in pairs, one by either aisle, and crossed in front of the altar. Then came the ring bearer, little Miss Amelia Sternberger, carrying the ring in a little silver basket.

The bride entered with her sister and maid of honor, Miss Mabel Ridge, being met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Mr. Carl D. Sellers, who entered from the pastor's study. The bride wore a navy blue travelling suit with hat and gloves to match and carried a bouquet of bride roses and maiden-hair ferns. The maid of honor wore a white batiste dress, black picture hat, and carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums.

The vows were spoken by Rev. E. K. McLarty, the impressive ring ceremony of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, being used. During the ceremony Mr. Alderman rendered softly the Intermezzo from Cavalleria Rusticana. As the bridal party left the church the recessional from Mendelssohn's wedding march was rendered.

Mr. and Mrs. Stockard left on No. 36 for a trip to Washington, New York and other northern cities. They will be at home about Dec. 1 at Mrs. J. M. Walker's West Market street.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mrs. R. C. Ridge and is a beautiful and accomplished young lady and is exceedingly popular in social circles. By her sunny disposition she has won the love of scores of friends. The groom is an energetic young business man of the city, holding a position of responsibility with the Cone Export & Commission Company. The large and handsome array of bridal presents attest to the esteem in which the young couple are held.

A number of out-of-town guests were here for the wedding.

TWO KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

And Raleigh Lady Probably Fatally Hurt

Car Driven by Mrs. H. D. Woolcott Dashes Through Fence and Into Crowd Gathered to Witness Flights of Aviators—Driver and Other Occupant of Car Escapes Injury—Airship Flights Successful.

Raleigh, Nov. 16.—This afternoon at the State Fair grounds an automobile driven by Mrs. H. D. Woolcott dashed through the fence enclosing the race track and into the crowd of spectators, killing one negro woman instantly and fatally injuring another. Mrs. A. H. Mooneyhan, wife of a Raleigh merchant, was seriously and probably fatally injured.

Thousands of spectators were at the grounds standing by the fence enclosing the race track. The auto races had just been pulled off and Mrs. Woolcott, accompanied by her husband, was driving her car around the track in an effort to lower the records made in the races. Near the main building the track curves and the speed was so great that the rear wheels of the car skidded, driving the car towards the inner fence. To avoid striking this Mrs. Woolcott turned the car sharply to the right, sending it through the fence and into the crowd. She retained her presence of mind and brought the machine to a standstill. Then realizing that she had killed one person and probably more she fainted. Scores of others were injured in the rush to get out of the car's way, but none seriously. Neither Mrs. Woolcott nor her husband were injured.

The injured were taken at once to the hospital, where the negro woman died soon thereafter. Mrs. Mooneyhan suffered a broken leg and was hurt internally. The attending physicians state there is little hope for her recovery. The negro women were from Durham.

Several successful flights were made by the aviators; the feats being witnessed by thousands of spectators. The flights will be given again tomorrow, as will the auto races also. Immense crowds of out-of-town people came today for the great flying machine meet this afternoon and tomorrow out at the state fair grounds by Messrs. McCurdy and Ely. The crowds gave the town much of a State Fair aspect and the conditions were excellent for the flights except for flurries of wind that came along at intervals. It was an amazing sight for thousands of spectators very many of whom will remain here until tomorrow to take in the second event of the meet, which also includes automobile races.

MARRIAGE OF A POPULAR COUPLE

First Presbyterian Church Scene of Beautiful Wedding Last Evening When Miss Sadie Dick Became Bride of Mr. Cummins Mebane—Vows Spoken by Rev. Melton Clark—Reception Followed Ceremony.

The large and representative audience which assembled last evening in the First Presbyterian church can never have witnessed a more beautiful wedding than that which united in marriage Miss Sadie Lindsay Dick and Mr. Cummins Aiken Mebane.

The musical program was in charge of Messrs. Roy and Lahser, the exquisite strains of Schubert's serenade immediately preceding the ceremony. The Lohengrin wedding march ushered in the bridal party.

Down the side aisles of the church the bridesmaids advanced singly to the altar, the maid of honor and dame of honor coming last in the order. The lovely bride then entered, leaning on the arm of her uncle, Mr. John A. Gilmer, who gave her away. She was met at the altar by the groom. The ring service was used, the impressive vows being spoken by Rev. Melton Clark, pastor of the couple. To the joyous strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march the bridal party left the church and those present proceeded to the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. J. A. Gilmer, where a brilliant reception was held.

The bridesmaids were Misses Louise Davidson, of Washington; Katherine Gilmer, of Philadelphia; Kate Hardie and Cora Mebane. They wore blue crepe de chine gowns, veiled in chiffon and carried pink sweet peas. The maid of honor, Miss Eloise Dick, wore pink crepe de chine, carrying pink roses. The dame of honor, Mrs. C. G. Wright, wore an imported pink Swiss lingerie gown, carrying white sweet peas.

The bridal gown of heavy white satin, en traine, falling in long graceful lines from a corsage of rose point and Duchess lace, was superb. The bride's veil was of tulle, caught to her hair with a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley.

The ushers were Messrs. Phil Carlton, C. W. Miller, Thos. S. Beall, Carter Dalton, Edgar Snow and Joe Carter, of Mt. Airy. The best man was Mr. R. J. Mebane, brother of the bridegroom. The Reception.

The scheme of the decorations at the Gilmer residence was white and green, every appointment being carried out with charming effect and artistic simplicity.

Receiving at the front door were Dr. and Mrs. Carlsen and dainty little Miss Annette Wright. Master Bernard Wright ushered the guests upstairs.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gilmer received at the drawing room door and in the drawing room the bridal party received.

In the library, where a costly array of beautiful gifts attested the esteem in which Mr. and Mrs. Mebane are held, Mrs. Jo Hardie and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hobgood received. Mrs. Blount Hunter, Misses Mary Benbow and Annie Merritt served delicious punch. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sloan invited the guests into the dining room, which was in charge of Misses Marie Reynolds, Alice Callum, Annie McIver and Miss Coggins. The bridal table was wonderfully lovely. Streamers of white gauze entwined with smilax fell from the chandelier to the corners of the table where vases stood, filled with swansonia and ferns.

Immediately after the reception Mr. and Mrs. Mebane left for a bridal trip to northern cities and on their return will be at home in Greensboro.

The bride and groom come of distinguished ancestry, Miss Dick being the granddaughter of the late Judge John A. Gilmer and Mr. Mebane being a son of Judge W. N. Mebane. The bride is noted for her charming personality and rare loveliness of character. Mr. Mebane is a successful young insurance man of the city. They have hundreds of friends throughout the city and county.

In addition to this form of celebration rice was thrown with a lavishness which broke the record. These pastimes were in connection with the Mebane-Dick wedding.

OUT OF HEALTH

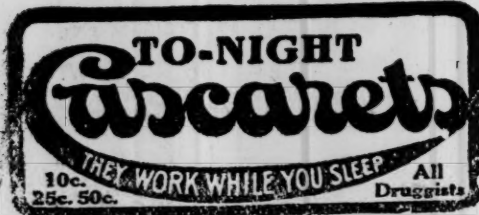

A very common expression. Are you one of the unfortunate, and what is the cause?

There are hundreds of people right here in this vicinity who have poor blood, are run-down, all tired out, with no strength, vitality or ambition.

We want to ask all such people to call at our store and get a bottle of Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, which is made without oil and very palatable.

We claim it will make pure, rich red blood, and impart new life, energy and strength to every person who does not feel well. If it fails we will return your money—without question. Isn't this a fair and generous offer?

A case is reported from Leipsic, Ind.—Mrs. C. R. Catlin was troubled with indigestion—was weak—all run-down. She says Vinol cured her stomach trouble, restored her strength—and made her feel like a new woman. Anyone in her condition can get the same benefit from Vinol. Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

WHAT DID T. R. SAY ANYWAY?

Readers Have Striven to Solve the Great Riddle of Oyster Bay.

New York World.

In almost as great a flood as the deluge of votes that swamped Colonel Roosevelt's assumption of dictatorship letters are coming to The World from contestants for the prize turkey who think they know just what Colonel Roosevelt said when he heard the news that the voters had landed his pet elephant on its back.

It will be remembered that the speculation as to what Colonel Roosevelt said arose from the fact that on election night a young woman called up the Associated Press and asked for the results. She said it was the Outlook office calling. The reply came:

"Foss has carried Massachusetts, Connecticut and New Jersey have also gone Democratic. Harmon has been elected in Ohio, Dix has carried New York by about 60,000 plurality."

There was silence on the wire for a second; then the young woman's voice was heard:

"My God! What will the Colonel say?"

A great majority of the World readers who have written letters in the contest for the Thanksgiving gobble believe the Colonel to have gasped, "Beaten to a frazzle!" Big fleets of writers imagine him to have burst into cuss word expletives. Many correspondents pay the World the compliment of thinking that when the news was broken to him Colonel Roosevelt immediately shouted that it was the World that had done for his candidates and his own aspirations.

Mrs. Anna E. Duffy, of 385 Park avenue, Manhattan, says he moaned: "Un-easy is the head that would like to wear a crown!"

But Denis Murphy, of 2213 Fifth avenue, imagines the Colonel to have pleaded wearily: "Please go 'way and let me sleep!"

Johnny Smith, of 308 Green avenue, Brooklyn, thinks the astonished Roosevelt demanded: "What? How dare they do it?"

John P. Scanlan, of 147 Waverley Place has it that the Big Stick artist shook his head wonderingly and exclaimed: "Who would think that the 'old guard' had so much blood!"

"Back to the jungle for mine," are the words William H. Hailer, of 214 Clinton street, Brooklyn, believes the Colonel uttered.

C. D. Edwards, of 1543 Bergen street, Brooklyn, pictures the Boss of Saratoga sobbing: "My kingdom's done."

John Ainsworth, of 311 West Twenty-sixth street, makes this speech for him: "Alas! My bluff's been seen. My occupation's gone!"

"The World got my rhinoceros that time!" are the words ascribed by M. Monsen, of 760 Thirty-ninth street, Brooklyn.

From Roosevelt, Long Island, Charlie Anders writes to say he thinks the Colonel said: "Well, it never happened before."

"I'm dee-agusted!" is what Patrick Nash, of 87 Hamilton avenue, records the Rough Rider as growling, and six other readers think just as Patrick does about it.

Mrs. A. Meeron, of 22 East One Hundred and Twelfth street, puts it: "De-lightless!"

"Sufragette!" says the Colonel cried: "Nit—1912!"

It is the opinion of Henry E. Jay, of 20 A Payette street, Brooklyn, that the ex-Great One merely sang out: "Ouch!"

Milton Marston, 333 Cornelia street, thinks Roosevelt, highly indignant, cried: "This is worse than lese majesty."

He is drawn by Rudolph Confield, of 2307 Broadway, as explaining ruefully: "Lincoln was right and Barnum was wrong."

And some burst into rhyme. Miss Julia C. Duffy, of 385 Park avenue, causes him to chant:

Theodore's grave is made;
My kingdom's passed away.
I'm in the balance weighed
As light and worthless clay.
A shroud my robe of state;
My canopy's a stone;
Republicans at my gate;
The Democrats on my throne.

Shall Women Vote?

If they did, millions would vote Dr. King's New Life Pills the true remedy for women. For banishing dull, fagged feelings, backache or headache, constipation, dispelling colds, imparting appetite and toning up the system, they're unequalled. Easy, safe, sure. 25c at Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

THEY CLING TO OLD SANTA

Baltimore Women Do Not Want Another to Take His Place.

Baltimore Sun.

An aggregation of frost-bitten Bostonians who were born with ice in their shoes have dared to come forth and assail the character of Santa Claus. They declare that Santa Claus is nothing but a myth and as such should not be held up every Christmas to the progressive children of this progressive land.

Miss Lotta Clark is the leader of the anti-Santa residents of Beantown-on-the-Back Bay. She says the time has come to push the children's patron saint into the discard, and she thinks a good substitute would be Benjamin Franklin, who was not only fat and had hair hanging over his coat collar, but was a historical figure which children should do well to remember. She means to make him an original American Santa Claus, even if he didn't have a long white beard.

"Why should children flock to the dreadful, tawdry impersonation of Santa Claus?" she is quoted as saying. "A representative of Benjamin Franklin, for instance, would be much more real to them. The children know that Santa Claus is only a myth, and, after all, they don't want what is artificial?"

All that Miss Clark says about Santa Claus may be true, and it may be accepted by the bespectacled and highly intellectual children of the Hub of Intelligence, but how the children in warmer blooded Baltimore would take to Franklin is problematical. They've been used to Santa Claus for many years and maybe they would be a little conservative in going back on their old friend.

Little Short of Sacrilegious.

Mrs. James A. Richardson, president of the Empty Stocking Club, regards an attack on the integrity of Santa Claus as little short of sacrilegious. She thinks Miss Clark has designs on the happiness of little children and she does not think that Santa Claus, even if he is a myth, should be taken away from them.

"Anyone who tries to destroy the illusions of little children that make them happy ought to be ashamed of herself," she said. "Santa Claus embodies the spirit of the Christ and for centuries he has been the one thing at Christmas time that children have looked forward to. To destroy this illusion would mean to detract from children's happiness, and to do that would be wrong."

"Just go to the Empty Stocking Club entertainment at Ford's Opera House every year and see the joy 2,500 little children display at the sight of Santa Claus. It is a story that enters the hearts of people and you see the effect of the old legend on the little children in a way that grips the heart. To take away this symbol of joy from children would be little less than sinful."

Not Sorry for Blunder.

"If my friend hadn't blundered in thinking I was a doomed victim of consumption, I might not be alive now," writes D. T. Sanders, of Harrodsburg, Ky., "but for years they saw every attempt to cure a lung-racking cough fail. At last I tried Dr. King's New Discovery. The effect was wonderful. It soon stopped the cough and I am now in better health than I have had for years. This wonderful life-saver is an unrivaled remedy for coughs, colds, lagrippe, asthma, croup, hemorrhages, whooping cough or weak lungs. 50c, $1.00. Trial bottle free. There are a great many places and occasions when the possibility of getting extra heat immediately effects an economy by decreasing the discomfort of the worker. In the office, in the early morning or late at night, before or after the steamheat is on, it is of importance to have extra heat. In the builder's outside office, in the shipping room, in the checker's shack, on exposed lofts, in railroad stations, in studios, the is often a necessity. It is safe, smokeless and odorless. Apply a match, and it gives heat quickly. With four quarts of oil it burns nine hours. Has automatic-looking flame spreader, which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back so that the wick can be cleaned in an instant.

It has a cool handle and a damper top. An indicator always shows the amount of oil in the font. The filler-cap it is put in like a cork in a bottle, and is attached to the font by a chain.

The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, because of a new device in construction, and consequently, it can always be easily unscrewed in an instant for reworking.

The Perfection Oil Heater is finished in japan or nickel. It is strong, durable, well made, built for service, yet light and ornamental.

When the Deacon Gave In

By M. QUAD

Copyright, 1910, by Associated Literary Press.

The Widow Spicer and Deacon Williams attended the same church and had known each other for a long time. The widow had known the deacon's wife in life and was with her when she died.

The Widow Spicer was a church member, but there were a few things she shied at. For instance, she didn't believe the whale swallowed Jonah.

Strangely enough, Deacon Williams had never heard of the widow's disbelief. It did not come to his ears until he had been a widower for three years and until a new minister took the pulpit. When he learned of it his surprise was great. He was also inclined to resent the heresy. He volunteered to call and have a talk with Mrs. Spicer, and the minister thought it might be a good thing, though he added:

"But I hope there won't be no heated argument, Brother Williams. Argue gently. Argue on the large size of the whale and the small size of Jonah. Gentle argument and persistency may accomplish much."

The deacon called and talked about the weather and the tater bugs until he had opportunity to introduce Jonah. He wanted to go right in like chopping wood, but he remembered the minister's caution and argued gently.

The widow didn't get fierce over it, but declared that until she saw the thing done with her own eyes she shouldn't believe the whale story.

Deacon Williams left in apparent good humor, but he didn't feel all right just the same.

"Perhaps we shouldn't be too anxious about it," said the minister when he saw that the matter was being taken very seriously.

The deacon had married a woman who firmly believed that the sun moved around the earth. It had taken him three years after marriage to bring her to his way of thinking, but he had won the victory. Why not marry the Widow Spicer and bring her to believe the whale story? That was the starting point. From thence the deacon brought himself to see that Mrs. Spicer had a comfortable home, was said to be a fine housekeeper and was president of the Ladies' Aid society and treasurer of the Ladies' Heathy Benevolent association. Taken all around, it would not be a bad thing. He could have let the minister into the little plan, but he figured to wait and surprise him.

The Widow Spicer thought pretty well of Deacon Williams, as all other folks did. Perhaps her condition was forlorn. Perhaps she wanted to be cheered up. Perhaps she fell in love. No one can tell about these things, and it's no one's business anyhow. In due time they were married. When the minister congratulated the deacon the latter smiled knowingly and said:

"Ask my wife a month hence whether she believes the whale swallowed Jonah."

"Ah, the influence of a husband! I shall be very pleased."

But he wasn't. He called one afternoon when the deacon was working in his sawmill and introduced his subject, and it was hardly off his tongue when the ex-widow replied:

"I have had three or four rows with the deacon about it, but I'm doubting more than ever. He says I've got to believe, and I say I won't, and there you are."

From thence on, as the neighbors got to know and whispered about, that was a sad house. There was never an hour in the day that some reference was not made to Jonah. It would have been a great relief had they changed off to Daniel in the lions' den, but they never did. It had become the scandal of the church and the gossip of the village, when one day a tin peddler came along and heard all about it.

Among other houses he called at to exchange his wares for cash or paper rags was that of Deacon Williams. All his talk with the unbelieving wife was not about trade. He threw out a hint or two as to what could be accomplished by a determined woman. Then he went down to the sawmill and got up a talk with the deacon and during the conversation managed to announce the fact that when a widower married a widow and there were no children all her property at her death went to her relatives. The deacon hadn't considered this fact, and it gave him a start.

When he went home at noon he said nothing about Jonah. The wife seemed to have been weeping. His dignity forbade his asking why. Even when she kissed him he couldn't sacrifice his pride. Jonah or bust was still his watchword. However, he didn't feel just right, and he started for home an hour earlier than usual. It was to find the wife on the bed, apparently breathing her last, and a note on the stand that she had taken poison.

The deacon hustled for the neighbors. He humped for the doctor. He galloped to the drug store. He called himself names. He kicked himself. He actually swore like a lightning rod man. And when all was over and the doctor said the patient would live, and the patient said she should still stick to her old opinion, the deacon shouted out:

"Hang old Jonah! Hang the old whale! You can believe what you want to, and we shall have a happy home after this!"

And the tin peddler drove out of town with a happy smile on his face. He had made good.

Those newspaper men around Washington seem quite disposed to do their part towards involving the Democrats in a squabble over the Speakership.

"Jail facilities inadequate" is the head of an article in the Danville Register. This tends to bear out the contention that liquor keeps the prisons full.

The beef trust is getting scared of the popular indignation at the enormous price of trust products and has announced (in effect if not in so many words) that it will let the prices drop a wee bit.

Every now and then another Democratic county is heard from. Enough Democratic votes have been fished up in Montana to mean the bowling over of Senator Carter. And from all accounts the country at large will not suffer as a result of Mr. Carter's eclipse.

High Point's ambition to be a county seat is entirely creditable and that it will bring powerful pressure on the Legislature to establish the proposed new county goes without saying. The Legislature, we think, can be depended on to take wise action in the matter. Guilford county is an unusually populous county, and that is a source of pride, but if the whole people can better be served by Guilford's being made smaller we see no reason why this should not be done.

Count Tolstoi, the famous old Russian novelist, has run away from home because he thought he was living too comfortably there. The man seems to be supremely unselfish—a very, very rare characteristic in this day and generation. Count Tolstoi holds that a man should allow himself only enough food to keep body and soul together and only enough clothing of the cheapest and coarsest sort to keep the body comfortable. One is tempted to say that the Count takes himself too seriously, but is deterred from reaching such a conclusion by a haunting suspicion that the rest of the world outside of Tolstoi doesn't take itself seriously enough.

We acknowledge with thanks the receipt of a very handsome booklet, the publication of which is occasioned by the fact that this is the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Thomasville Baptist Orphanage, that institution having been founded in 1885. The foreword is the following gem from the mind of Rev. Dr. J. W. Lynch, of Durham, spoken when, last year we believe it was, he preached the sermon at the annual meeting of the trustees:

Never was my thought so pure, my heart so tender and my feeling so holy as when I saw for the first time the hallowed spot where the dropped stitches of vanished hands are being woven again in the loom of love.

The booklet is full of information tending to fill the heart with admiration for the splendid work which the North Carolina Baptists have done for their orphans.

Dr. John M. Faison writes the Raleigh News and Observer thanking it for its work in his behalf in his race for Congress from the Third district. Concluding his letter Dr. Faison says that in return for such gratifying, generous support and confidence, he pledges all his best efforts to faithfully represent his district, the State and the Democratic party in Congress. It will be noticed that the Congressman-elect doesn't promise to do anything for the News and Observer, its editor or any of its employees. All he promises is to do the best he can for the district, the State and the party. And of course such a promise was all that the News and Observer wanted or expected. Dr. Faison would have shown up to correspondingly poorer advantage had he made a different pledge. In carrying out such a pledge as he has made he will adequately reward all his friends and supporters.

CLEVELAND, ROOSEVELT, WM. H. TAFT

(By Judson Peele).

It is but natural to man in an hour of perplexity and anxious concern to seek out some wise and unselfish soul for counsel. And great nations have in such a time ever turned to their seers and sages for guidance and that wisdom which time, experience, and ripened mentality alone can give.

It would seem that the great Cleveland passed from us at a time when needed most. Happily we have much of his sound logic yet preserved, and wonderfully true it is that his words concerning the great problem which confronts the nation today are as true and as needful of embodiment into action as when he first uttered them. But that wonderful personality and that mature wisdom which a nation sought and confided in are not today to be found in any man amongst us. In our unconscious need we came to worship at the shrine of physical prowess, human valor, and impulsive desire, mistaking hardness for true manliness, vulgar presumption for loyalty to a nation's principles, and a certain measure of mental acuteness for wisdom, thinking that so long as there was no abatement of personal character we had found a man.

From the forces of nature we get the lesson that noise is weakness. The men who have shaped the destinies of great nations have been those who have thought quietly and have acted only after mature deliberation, and there is never any hope that any man will achieve lasting honor and distinction until he has learned to spend a day with pleasure and profit in company with himself. Mental poise, humility, unselfishness, and a desire to do the greatest amount of good to the greatest number without hope of personal reward are the qualities that mark the man whom all classes delight to honor. Such a man was Cleveland. Had it been proved that he acquired riches from any effort made for the public weal, his strength would have been shorn from him in a night; and more than once did the Philistines come upon him with this charge, but he met them with the quiet admonition to hew to the line of truth—a weapon which has ever put liars to rout.

He was held as naught but a daring scepter when he defied the tenets of his party; his staunchest friends and supporters became his enemies, and the citizenship of the country seemed to be arrayed for his undoing. Through it all he remained as firm as Gibraltar—and as silent. He spent no time in making explanations, and was content to wait in confidence that time would work for his vindication far more effectively than could tongue or pen. He towered above his party—or any other party, and became a nation's counsellor, whose wisdom was sought by men of all creeds and political beliefs and whose word was accepted with the finality of a decree of justice.

Party prejudice and fear of calumny have shattered the influence and prestige of many a man who might otherwise have become the seer and true benefactor of a nation.

We have much respect for Mr. Taft. He is possessed of a character irreproachable; he desires to be just to all men; he knows the law and urges its enforcement. But he has lost his opportunity. He might have become the Gladstone of America, if he had imbibed of the spirit of Grover Cleveland and Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

assisted, by the mere stroke of a pen, in enforcing Cleveland's doctrine in regard to tariff reform. But in an "enterprise of great pitch and moment" he feared, and so his powers of leadership, his claim to future greatness, are discounted and without hope of appreciation, and they will remain so; unless it should prove in later years that he was right—an event which is extremely improbable.

As to Mr. Roosevelt, the Fates are in alliance against him as regards political activity. Every movement of his seems to drive him farther away from the great tide of popularity which he recently enjoyed, and which was perhaps without parallel in the history of modern civilization.

Thus, we shall ere long most probably have two ex-Presidents, the advice and counsel of which will be worth about as much as that of Mr. Bryan and Mr. Parker.

But we are learning valuable lessons, the most important and far-reaching of which is this: A sovereignty which boasts the capacity for self-government cannot afford too readily to place implicit trust in any one of its subjects; and lastly, never to follow for one moment a man who, foolishly believing that a wave of popular admiration is genuine and lasting loyalty to principles, appoints himself to the task of reconstructing the very foundations upon which a free government rests.

Governor and Other State Officials of Pennsylvania Here Yesterday Morning and Last Night.

A special train of nine cars, bearing the Governor, Lieut. Governor and other State officials of Pennsylvania, passed through the city yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock, en route to Salisbury where they took part in the unveiling of a monument erected to the memory of Pennsylvanians who died in the Confederate prison at Salisbury during the war. The train was due here at seven o'clock, but was delayed about three hours. The Governor and his party took breakfast at the Haffner, remaining here over half an hour.

In addition to Gov. Stuart, Lieut. Gov. Murphy and Adj. Gen. Stewart, of Pennsylvania, there were a number of other officials and besides a large number of the surviving Pennsylvanians who were prisoners at Salisbury. The special passed through last night, returning to the Pennsylvania capital. Adj. Gen. R. L. Leinster and Capt. S. Glenn Brown, of Gov. Kitchin's staff, joined the party here and accompanied them to Salisbury. Gov. Kitchin and Senator Lee S. Overman made addresses at the unveiling.

The monument unveiled is a massive structure of Mt. Airy granite, trimmed with marble. Surmounting it is the bronze statue of a man, representing a prisoner. The monument is suitably inscribed. It was erected at a cost of about $30,000 by the State of Pennsylvania in memory of her dead. The monument is in the National cemetery.

Lowe Gets Four Months.

The only case in Municipal Court yesterday morning was one against Felix Lowe, the young white man charged with stealing a suit case. He pleaded guilty to the charge, stating that he did not know why he took the property, but simply could not resist the temptation. Judge Euse gave him four months on the roads, the minimum sentence for larceny.

CHURCH WEDDING IN THE COUNTRY

Mr. Paul Coble and Miss Nina Glass United in Marriage At Alamance Church Yesterday Afternoon At Five O'clock—Church Beautifully Decorated—Reception At Home of Bride Tuesday Night.

Yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock Alamance Presbyterian church, east of the city, was the scene of a beautiful church wedding when Miss Nina Glass became the bride of Mr. Paul Coble. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends of the couple, Rev. J. A. Wilson, pastor of the church, officiating.

The church had been beautifully decorated for the occasion with smilax, ferns and potted plants, the pots being entwined in white, carrying out the color scheme of green and white most effectively.

While the guests were arriving Mrs. S. M. Rankin sang most charmingly "Because." The strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, rendered by Mrs. Rankin at the organ, heralded the entrance of the bridal party. First came the ushers, Messrs. C. E. Glass, Albert Sharpe, Chas. Fields and Henry Pritchette, entering by right and left aisles. Then down the left aisle came the maid of honor, Miss Lillie Glass, sister of the bride. The groom, accompanied by his best man, Mr. Claude Pritchette, entered by the right aisle, while at the same time the bride came down the left aisle, accompanied by her father, who gave her away. She wore a dark blue traveling dress with hat and gloves to match. The bride and groom met in front of the altar where the vows were spoken. The recessional from Lohengrin was rendered by Mrs. Rankin as the bridal party left the church.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Coble came to Greensboro and left on No. 35 for a trip south. On their return they will be at home at the groom's homeplace, near the city.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Glass and is a charming and exceedingly popular young lady. The groom is a prominent and successful young farmer of the Alamance section. Their popularity is attested by the large collection of beautiful and costly presents received.

On Tuesday night at the home of the bride's parents, east of the city, a pre-nuptial reception was given, a large number of the relatives and friends of the bride and groom being present. The Glass home had been beautifully decorated with autumn leaves. The center of attraction, excepting the bride, was the dining room table which was heavily laden with all the good things to eat that a well provided country larder contains.

Ladies Return Thanks.

The members of the department of household Economics of the Woman's Club wish to express their appreciation to the merchants of the city for the De Soto flour, Royal Baking Powder, Wesson cooking oil, Cottolene and Royce's extracts furnished by them for the demonstration; and also to the Public Service Company for the use of the range and gas.

Charged With Larceny.

Police Sergeant Jones and Officer Patterson yesterday afternoon arrested Daisy Weaver and Lillie Wilkins, two negro women, on the charge of stealing some sheets and other articles from the residence of Mr. W. B. Devlin. They will be given a hearing in Municipal court this morning.

Sunday School Officers.

At the Christian church conference last night Mr. S. A. Caviness was re-elected church treasurer. Mr. H. V. Simpson was re-elected superintendent of the Sunday school with Mr. Chas. A. Hines as assistant. Mr. J. W. McLennan was elected secretary-treasurer of the school.

Pawning Bank Bills.

"Pawnbrokers don't think much of ten dollar bills as pledges," said the city salesman. "I saw a man pawn one the other day for $6.50. When asked why he didn't spend his $10 instead of soaking it for a little more than half the amount he explained that he wanted to keep that particular bill. Twice before he had tried to keep a certain bill by giving it as security to a friend who had so many bills that he wouldn't need to spend that particular one, but both times the friend got his money mixed and the keepsake was lost after all. This time he depended upon the pawnbroker to tide him over. To pawn money struck me as a very curious proceeding, but the broker assured me that it is frequently done by people who attach a sentimental value to a particular bill or coin."—New York Sun.

Thacker & Brockmann,

"He's All Right; He Has Money in the Bank"

How many times has each of us heard this or similar expression! If we go around much we hear it nearly every day. And yet so few of us really take it to heart.

If a young man gets into trouble, a bank account will pull him out. If he gets sick or injured it will pay the doctor's or druggist's bills. If he wants to buy a few shares of stock in the Company for which he works, and thereby strengthen his position, he can do it. All these things, and a hundred more, can be done with a snug bank account—but one must SAVE in order to have that account.

Better start today and save your money. We pay interest at the rate of 4 per cent, and assure the absolute safety of every dollar deposited here.

Relieve Indigestion and Stomach Troubles

Feet Tired-- So Tired?

TIZ Makes Sick Feet Well No Matter What Ails Them.

TIZ acts at once and makes tired, aching, swollen feet remarkably fresh and sore proof.

It's the surest remedy, you know, for everything that gets the matter with your feet. It's for sore feet and for sweaty, bad-smelling feet, and for corns, callouses, and bunions, too.

"For years I have been troubled with sore and tender feet; suffered intense pains. Have had the assistance of physicians without relief. I bought a box of TIZ, which worked a perfect cure, as it has with a great many of my friends. I would not be without it. All it requires is to be known to be universally used." A. F. Dreutzer, Chicago.

TIZ is not a powder. Powders and other foot remedies clog up the pores. TIZ draws out all poisonous exudations which bring on soreness of the feet, and is the only foot remedy that does. TIZ cleans out every pore and glorifies the feet--your feet.

You'll never limp again or draw up your face in pain, and you'll forget about your corns, bunions and callouses. You'll feel like a new person.

TIZ is for sale at all druggists, 25 cents per box, or it will be sent you direct, if you wish, from Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

THAW'S DAILY LIFE.

Ease and Luxury of a Man When He is at Mattawan.

New York World.

According to Dr. Baker, Thaw's daily routine is as follows:

He is compelled to rise at 5:45 in the morning and is served breakfast in a dining-room adjacent to the ward at 6:15. Thaw is permitted to arise earlier if he so desires. He has the privilege of a daily bath, in connection with which there is a shower and a spray, which have always seemed peculiarly agreeable to Thaw. There are two barbers attached to the ward who are not patients, and, therefore, Thaw can enjoy a shave daily at any time except during meal hours. Thaw's breakfast consists of cereal, bread and butter, coffee of the same quality as that served at the table of the physicians, and there is no restriction in the amount of bread. The articles served at breakfast may be changed to suit the health, wishes and tastes of the patient.

After breakfast Thaw usually spends from 7 to 11 o'clock in the patient's library, discharging his duty as custodian of the books. For three-quarters of an hour he is at liberty to read such newspapers and books as he chooses and attend to his correspondence.

From 11 a. m. until 12 Thaw exercises in the courtyard when the weather permits. At 12:15 he goes to dinner, which usually consists of soup and fish on Fridays and of meat and vegetables in season, desert and coffee. After dinner Thaw spends an hour in the library, where he reads or writes and attends to his duty as librarian. From 2 until 5 he is occupied in receiving visitors, including his mother, his counsel or any one wishing to see him. He receives his visitors in a private room set aside for the purpose. From 5 until 5:45 he can either pass his time in the library or exercising alone in a large, airy corridor.

At 5:45 p. m. Thaw's supper is served in the dining-room, and usually consists of soup, occasionally meat, fruit and vegetables in season, and tea. From 6 until 9 o'clock in the evening Thaw spends his time in the ward. He is permitted to smoke the best of cigars, which he furnishes himself, to suit his taste. During these hours he usually engages in a game of cards known as "500," a game played by four persons. He goes to bed at 9 o'clock. Near his room there is an experienced attendant constantly on duty during the night and available whenever Thaw wants him.

Saves an Iowa Man's Life.

The very grave seemed to yawn before Robert Madsen, of West Burlington, Iowa, when, after seven weeks in the hospital, four of the best physicians gave him up. Then was shown the marvelous curative power of Electric Bitters. For, after eight months of frightful suffering from liver trouble and yellow jaundice, getting no help from other remedies or doctors, five bottles of this matchless medicine completely cured him. Its positively guaranteed for Stomach, Liver or Kidney troubles and never disappoints. Only 50 c. at Fariss-Klutznig Drug Co.

Occasionally we hear of a man who has such a strong will that even his heirs can't break it.

It is really wonderful how quickly Vick's Croup and Pneumonia Salve breaks up a cold, croup or pneumonia symptoms. Just rub it on. Keep a jar ready.

Blobbs--"His speech is pretty blunt." Slobbs--"Yes, his remarks are generally pointed."

Good Results Always Follow.

The use of Foley Kidney Pills. They are upbuilding, strengthening, and soothing. Tonic in action, quick in results. Howard Gardner.

Virtue may be its own reward, but many a man parades his virtues with a brass band.

When You Buy Sox--Think of Your Wife

Next time you buy Sox remember this fact--your wife will appreciate "Holeproof." If you take common hose she will have to darn them every week. If you insist on "Holeproof" she will have no darning to do for six months.

It costs no more to get the genuine "Holeproof." Don't let anyone sell you an imitation--think how your wife will have to sit up nights for six months to keep them mended.

Insist on "Holeproof" and see how surprised and delighted your wife will be for the next half year.

FAMOUS Holeproof Hosiery FOR MEN WOMEN AND CHILDREN

The makers have spent 31 years to reach this perfection in hosiery. So remember when others offer to imitate the quality they can't imitate the quality.

They pay 63 cents a pound for the best Egyptian and Sea Island cotton. Others often use common cotton at 12 cents a pound.

The yarn is 3-ply in the body and 6-ply in the heels, toes and knees. Others use 2-ply throughout. But you pay the same price for both.

"Holeproof" is shaped to fit the ankle as neatly as a glove fits the hand. The fabric is soft and comfortable--it is simply perfection in hosiery.

Ask our clerks to show you the hosiery. It comes in eleven colors for men, six for women and two for children. Prices from $1.50 to $3 a box of six pairs. Come in and see it today.

DANGER IN DELAY.

Kidney Diseases Are Too Dangerous for Greensboro People to Neglect.

The great danger of kidney troubles is that they get a firm hold before the sufferer recognizes them. Health is gradually undermined. Backache, headache, nervousness, lameness, soreness, lumbago, urinary troubles, dropsy, diabetes and Bright's Disease follow in merciless succession. Don't neglect your kidneys. Cure the kidneys with the certain and safe remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills, which has cured people right here in this locality.

G. H. Rogers, Wentworth street, Reidsville, N. C., says: "I suffered a great deal from backache for several years. My kidneys were badly disordered and the kidney secretions were irregular and painful passage. I also had pains through the small of my back which became more severe whenever I exerted myself. I finally procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and began their use. In a short time I obtained relief and consequently I can heartily recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to other sufferers."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Bad Breath

"For months I had great trouble with my stomach and used all kinds of medicines. My tongue has been actually as green as grass, my breath having a bad odor. Two weeks ago a friend recommended Cascarets and after using them I can willingly and cheerfully say that they have entirely cured me. I therefore let you know that I shall recommend them to any one suffering from such troubles."—Chas. H. Halpern, 114 E. 7th St., New York, N. Y.

Hay's Hair HealthTHE WHITE NILE.

Mr. Roosevelt's Description of Night on the Great African River.

We had come down through the second of the great Nyanza lakes. As we sailed northward its waters stretched behind us beyond the ken of vision, to where they were fed by streams from the Mountains of the Moon. On our left hand rose the frowning ranges on the other side of which the Kongo forest lies like a shroud over the land. On our right we passed the mouth of the Victorian Nile, alive with monstrous crocodiles and its banks barren of human life because of the swarms of the fly whose bite brings the torment which ends in death. As night fell we entered the White Nile and steamed and drifted down the mighty stream. Its current swirled in long curves between endless ranks of plumed papyrus. White and blue and red the floating water lilies covered the lagoons and the still inlets among the reeds, and here and there the lotus lifted its leaves and flowers stiffly above the surface. The brilliant tropic stars made lanes of light on the lapping water as we ran on through the night. The river horses roared from the reed beds and snorted and plunged beside the boat, and crocodiles slipped sullenly into the river as we glided by. Toward morning a mist arose and through it the crescent of the dying moon shone red and lurid. Then the sun flamed aloft, and soon the African landscape vast, lonely, mysterious, stretched on every side in a shimmering glare of heat and light, and ahead of us the great, strange river went twisting away into the distance. — Theodore Roosevelt in Scribner's.

Both Speedy and Effective.

This indicates the action of Foley Kidney Pills as S. Parsons, Battle Creek, Mich., illustrates: "I have been afflicted with a severe case of kidney and bladder trouble for which I found no relief until I used Foley Kidney Pills. These cured me entirely of all my ailments. I was troubled with backaches and severe shooting pains with annoying urinary irregularities. The steady use of Foley Kidney Pills rid me entirely of all my former troubles. They have my highest recommendation." Howard Gardner.

Hexamethylenetetramine.

Is the name of a German chemical, one of the many valuable ingredients of Foley's Kidney Remedy. Hexamethylenetetramine is recognized by medical text books and authorities as a uric acid solvent and anti-septic for the urine. Take Foley's Kidney Remedy promptly at the first sign of kidney trouble and avoid a serious malady. Howard Gardner.

A CURIOUS ANIMAL.

The Sea Cucumber Can Part With and Replace Its Organs.

Among the curious animals which inhabit the sea we may take the holothuria, or sea cucumber, so called from its resemblance to the cucumber.

When this animal is attacked by an enemy it does not stand up and fight, but by a sudden movement it ejects its teeth, stomach, digestive apparatus and nearly all its intestines and then shrivels its body up to almost nothing. When, however, the danger is past the animal commences to replace the organs which it has voluntarily parted with, and in a short time the animal is as perfect as ever it was.

Dr. Johnstone kept one in water for a long time, and one day he forgot to change the water. The creature in consequence ejected its intestines and shriveled up, but when the water was changed all its organs were reproduced. Although the animal is not eaten in Europe, it is a favorite with the Chinese, and the fishing forms an important part of the industry of the east. Thousands of junks are annually used in fishing for trepang, as the animals are called.—London Tit-Bits.

Mr Otto Paul, Milwaukee, Wis., says: Foley's Honey and Tar is still more than the best. He writes us, "All those that bought it think it is the best for coughs and colds they ever had and I think it is still more than the best. Our baby had a bad cold and it cured him in one day. Please accept thanks." Howard Gardner.

"I suppose rum brought you here," remarked the magistrate severely. "Yes, your Honor, the cop that arrested me was loaded to the nozzle," replied the prisoner.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Is the best of all medicines for the cure of diseases, disorders and weaknesses peculiar to women. It is the only preparation of its kind devised by a regularly graduated physician—an experienced and skilled specialist in the diseases of women.

It is a safe medicine in any condition of the system. THE ONE REMEDY which contains no alcohol and no injurious habit-forming drugs and which creates no craving for such stimulants.

THE ONE REMEDY so good that its makers are not afraid to print its every ingredient on each outside bottle-wrapper and attest to the truthfulness of the same under oath.

It is sold by medicine dealers everywhere, and any dealer who hasn't it can get it. Don't take a substitute of unknown composition for this medicine of known composition. No counterfeit is as good as the genuine and the druggist who says something else is "just as good as Dr. Pierce's" is either mistaken or is trying to deceive you for his own selfish benefit. Such a man is not to be trusted. He is trifling with your most priceless possession—your health—may be your life itself. See that you get what you ask for.

Then select every day one or two presents. A small deposit will secure them for you. They will be laid aside until the day before Christmas.

A look at the show windows and the store proper will aid in making selections. Come whenever you like, and as often as you please. We will be very glad to show you around. You will never be urged to buy.

You will probably give at least one watch. By buying it here you will save enough so that for the difference you can secure a very good chain to attach to it.

There will surely be some one to whom you will want to give a ring, to others bracelets, lockets and scarf pins, brooches and studs. For still others you will want little trinkets in silver novelties.

Mr. J. M. Moser and Miss Clara F. Wilson United in Marriage Last Night.

Last evening at Westminster Presbyterian church a surprise wedding occurred when Mr. Jerry M. Moser and Miss Clara F. Wilson were united in marriage.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. E. Hodgins, pastor of the church, in the presence of a number of friends of the bride and groom.

This marriage comes as a distinct surprise to the many friends of this popular couple as they had disclosed their intentions to only their close friends and relatives.

The ceremony was performed just after the prayer meeting service was concluded, those who attended the service remaining to witness the ceremony. There were no attendants, the simplicity of the arrangements adding to the solemnity of the occasion. The bride wore a blue traveling suit with hat and gloves to match.

The bride is the charming and attractive daughter of Mrs. C. C. Wilson, Asheville street, and has hundreds of friends in the city. The groom is one of the most popular young men of the city. He holds a position of trust with the American Exchange Bank.

Mr. and Mrs. Moser left on No. 38 last night for a trip to Washington and other cities, after which they will make their home in this city.

PORTUGUESE REFUGES IN U. S.

Eighteen Jesuit Priests Cared For In New York.

New York, Nov. 16.—Jesuit priests, refugees of the Portugal revolution, are being cared for today by members of their faith in this city, following a series of exciting adventures in escaping from the country after King Manuel was deposed.

The band consists of 6 priests, 10 brothers and 2 scholastics, under the leadership of Rev. Joachim Dias, S. J. Father Dias was offered protection in Portugal by the government if he would renounce his religion.

"You might as well ask a man to deny his mother," the priest answered, "as to expect a Jesuit to turn traitor. I was driven like a dog from my own land by men who do not know the meaning of patriotism."

In traveling through Portugal to Spain the company of refugees assumed disguises to facilitate their flight.

Father Dias does not admit that the upheaval in his country was a revolution.

"What they call a revolution," said the priest, "was the result of a traitorous alliance between their leaders and several ministers of the kingdom, who afterward found snug places in the new government. One of these, Teixeira de Sousa, is derisively called 'the grave digger of the monarchy.'" to ask a friend to do you a favor when it is impossible to secure the favor in any other way. But why ask a friend to go on your bond as surety when the Greensboro Loan & Trust Company can give better security than an individual at no extra cost for its faithful discharge of its duty as a trustee or executor or administrator. Why should you sign a bond by which your heirs, executors, administrators and assigns are held and firmly bound to pay for the default of others; perhaps after your death, every dollar of your estate? Tell your friend not to burden you with such a grave responsibility. Let the Greensboro Loan & Trust Company become responsible.

IT IS ALL RIGHT

Talk this over with us—it will assist you.
